With her abstract beats, unique voice and hypnotizing lyrics, the female singer, musician and producer Tone is renowned for her at forceful, and the same time, frail expression through experimental compositions within the electronica-genre. On her debut album, "Small Arm of Sea", she shows her great versatility ranging from uplifting vigorous outlets of energy to obscure, melancholic moods.

Musically, Tone creates a remarkable audiovisual realm where her light and almost spellbinding voice adds to a bedrock of crunchy break beats, abstract compositional structures and catchy melodies.

Not being a typical songwriter in terms of clinging to the usage of the traditional structure of verses and choruses, Tone relies on improvisation and creative exploration in the creation of her unpredictable musical landscapes - while adding daunting, yet compelling lyrics - and thereby drawing listeners into her musical and atmospheric universe of thoughts, sounds and a myriad of emotional expressions.

After the Danish release of "Small Arm Of Sea", things started to happen.

Tone was booked to play Roskilde Festival 08, Spot Festival, Eurosonic Festival 08 and 3 tours of Germany and the Benelux countries in the fall of '08 and winter of '09.

Tone's live-performance is a spectacular experience. Accompanied by video artist and VJ Kristian Ravn Ellestad, the two entertainers blend music and abstract video into an audiovisual symbiosis, emphasizing the moods in Tone's emotionally charged music.

All the videos used live for each track can be downloaded for free from PonyRec's website, and thus enables the listener to recreate the audiovisual experience back home.

Tone will embark on a European tour in late 2009.
