Anchorless is a 6-piece band out of Copenhagen forming late 2009. Starting out with just a single song on MySpace in December to show for themselves, the band has definitely not been wasting time. Within it's first year of existence the band has embarked on a European tour, including shows in Germany, France, Luxembourg, Austria and Czech Republic, playing shows with a diversity of bands such as The Black Heart Procession (US), The Smith Westerns (US), Robocop Krauss (DE) and Kashmir (DK).

The band has released a 6-song EP on vinyl via PonyRec (Alcoholic Faith Mission, Marybell Katastrophy) and is furthermore giving it away as a free download with the idea of spreading the music as much and as fast as possible. Downloads have so far reached more than 5000 times and still counting.

The EP is licensed under Creative Commons and can be distributed freely as anyone wishes.

Anchorless consists of members from a series of well-respected Danish bands such as Lack, The River Phoenix and The Fashion, but this new constellation doesn't carry any comparison to those. The musical direction derives from simple, guitar-angled song-structures with a declared focus on straightforwardness and strong, yet particular melodies. Stylistically the band lends from rock, pop, indie and even punk to occasionally stir up things. Anchorless is said to be "...catchy, as if Built To Spill and The Shins made a summerrecord together."
